Ocean fish oils are produced according to GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) standards in accordance with international production and quality standards. The quality and content guarantee of Ocean fish oils are analyzed by International Fish Oil Standards (IFOS), an independent organization, in each production series.

Ocean fish oils are analyzed according to the limit values determined by Council for Responsible Nutrition (CRN), World Health Organization (WHO), The Global Organization for EPA and DHA Omega-3s (GOED) and are found sufficient in terms of purity, freshness, content guarantee and parameters in each series. Ocean fish oils offer international quality and assurance with IFOS 5 star quality approval.

OCEAN: Gold Standard In Fish Oil

1

It is obtained from the body of small breed fish that live in clean and cold water streams, away from heavy metals.

2

Chemical solvents are not used, only mechanical methods are preferred.

3

To in order to preserve the omega 3 values, fish oil is processed within 24 hours within the European Union freshness and hygiene standards.

4

Purified by molecular distillation and high deodorization techniques and fishy odor is removed.

5

Stability is ensured by using natural antioxidants.

High Quality Supply and Value Chain Management in Ocean Fish Oil Standards

Since omega 3 fatty acids are not synthesized by our body, they are essential fatty acids that must be taken from outside. An important criterion when choosing fish oil is the total omega 3 content, namely EPA and DHA values. DHA helps the normal development of the brain and the development of the eye and nervous system. EPA and DHA help protect cardiovascular health. DHA contributes to the maintenance of normal brain functions and normal vision.

Ocean Coenzyme QH 30 Softgel Capsules

CoQ10 (or coenzyme Q10) is an essential nutrient for healthy mitochondrial function, a process that produces energy at the cellular level. Therefore CoQ10 is concentrated in high-energy organs such as your brain, liver, kidneys and heart. Thus, it could be named as a vital antioxidant found in your heart, liver and kidneys. CoQ10 also has powerful antioxidant properties, protecting important proteins and mitochondrial DNA from oxidative damage. CoQ-10 levels may decline with age and may be affected by taking statin drugs. Levels are also affected by exercise and environmental stressors. Coenzyme Q10 is transformed into coenzyme QH after it is ingested to involve mitochondrial functions. Therefore, coenzyme QH is ready to use in the form of the coenzyme Q10, which means higher bioavailability. Patented Kaneka ubiquinol is highly bioavailable, which means it's easy for the body to absorb.

Benefits

- Supports healthy aging and heart health.
- Helps maintain cardiovascular health.
- Provides antioxidant support.
- Supports cellular energy production.
- Vital to workhorse organs like the heart, brain, and kidneys.
